Texas Partners FCU Awards Scholarships
2009 John Colgin Memorial Scholarship is awarded to four students

KILLEEN, TX (April 2, 2009) — Texas Partners Federal Credit Union is proud to announce that Adrienne Nash, David Fasolino, Ashli Lawson and James Sutton are the 2009 recipients of the John Colgin Memorial Scholarship. In all, $5,000 was distributed among the four Texas Partners members.

According to Bill Beebe, chairman of the 2009 John Colgin Memorial Scholarship committee, “We received applications from a great group of graduating high school seniors and current college students. The application process is very rigorous requiring two essays, three letters of recommendation, school transcripts, and so forth. The committee is very respectful and appreciative of the time each and every applicant put into applying for the scholarship.”

“John Colgin was a long-time member and great friend of the credit union,” said Rod Washburn, chairman of the Texas Partners FCU Board of Directors. “We established this scholarship to honor his memory in 2005. Each year, the scholarship amounts have varied, but not the dedication to academic excellence and community involvement of the recipients. They are a great group of young people.”
